

Ten room hotel plan for old town garage

PLANS have been drawn up to convert a former bus depot and engineering factory in Coombe Street, Lyme Regis, into a small hotel.

Adjoining property owners have received copies of the plans, prepared by building consultant Stuart Case.

The property in question is currently owned by Larry Gibbons, owner of Largigi house and Thai restaurant on the Marine Parade, and is used as a garage for vehicle parking.

The building, which occupies 280 square metres in the old part of Lyme, used to be a bus depot and for many years was an engineering factory run by the late Mr George Bur-giss. The plans to convert the garage into a 10-bed-roomed hotel, adding one and a half new stories to the interior, have been circulated together with design and heritage statements, to neighbouring property owners and occupiers.

As yet, the plans do not appear on planning authority West Dorset District Council's website and have not gone before Lyme Regis Town Council for consideration.

Firmly in check

In a comprehensive statement on the heritage significance of the site, Mr Case states that the scale of the alterations at the garage have been held "firmly in check so that the established balance between industry and housing has not been lost".

Mr Gibbons, a former seafront hotel owner, fought a long battle with planners over the demolition and rebuild of the annexe of the Bay Hotel, now Largigi, the design of which was nominated for an architectural award.

The project is likely to win support from town councillors who in recent times have expressed concern over the loss of hotel beds in the town.

■ FLY-BY: Despite being a cloudy morning, thousands of visitors descended on Lyme Regis on Friday for a display by the Red Arrows, the opening event of this year's Lifeboat Week. The cloud meant the Arrows could not perform their full display, but instead of disappointing the crowds the team performed the first half of aerobatic tricks twice. They were followed by the RAF Falcons Parachute Team, who completed a high sky-dive onto the beach after the cloud cleared. For more Lifeboat Week news and photos see pages 6, 7, 8 & 9

NIGEL Reed, 55, was born in Weymouth and was educated at Holy Trinity Primary School and the Royal Russell School in Croydon.

He worked in Information Technology and then ran the cafe, The House on Pooh Corner in Weymouth's St Mary Street during the 1990s before joining Basepoint.

He was a county councillor for four years and a borough councillor for nine years including two as leader of the council.

Nigel is married with five step-children, his interests include golf and skiing and he is a Chelsea supporter.

■ WHY do you live in Weymouth?

I was born here and, while I have spent some time away, there was always the pull to come back.

■ WHERE do you go for your holidays?

Anywhere and everywhere. Sometimes I just have a couple of weeks off in Weymouth or I might go on a golfing holiday abroad.

■ WHAT is your favourite time of the year?

I like May and June when the days are long before the nights start to draw in.

■ WHAT is your favourite film?

Star Wars because I am a big science fiction fan.

■ WHAT is the scariest thing that has ever happened to you?

Nothing really. I have torn my knee but I am still waiting for the ultimate shock.

■ IF you could live your life again what would you be?

I would be an MP because I just think that, after being a councillor, it is something I am interested in and that I would like to try politics at a higher level.

■ WHICH three people would you invite to your dream dinner party?

Mohammad Ali because I think he was a wonderful boxer and because he was a good advocate for his profession; Winston Churchill because I enjoy a glass of port and so did he; and Janet Street-Porter because I think that a dinner debate with her could be quite lively.

■ WHAT would you do if you won the Lottery?

I would probably set up a sort of Dragon's Den enterprise to help budding small businesses, because to me that would have a benefit. All businesses start small. I'd also do all the main theme parks and golf courses around the world.

■ WHAT do you hope the future holds?

I hope I enjoy good health and that Weymouth realises the true potential that it has because this is something that I don't think Weymouth has achieved yet.

If you are interested in taking part in the 60 SECOND INTERVIEW email edit@pemedi.co.uk

Pollution checks could improve water quality

THE Environment Agency is taking to the streets of Lyme Regis, checking for signs of pollution that could impact the quality of bathing water.

The agency will carry out a detailed inspection of the town's drains in a bid to pinpoint possible sources of pollution, including misconnections that might impact bathing water at Back Beach, which has failed to meet standards in the past.

Officers are walking along the River Lim and inspecting the areas around Combined Sewer Overflows and manholes for evidence of sewer leaks and misconnections, and taking water samples. They will also examine the culverted section in town to check for sewage problems.

Misconnections range from domestic washing machines mistakenly plumbed into surface water drains to factories, restaurants, hotels and schools discharging sewage into surface water systems instead of sewers.

Environment Agency staff from Blandford have recently completed a survey of pigeon roosting locations and water quality in the River Lim in Lyme Regis as part of the same pollution investigation effort.

In addition, South West Water recently completed some misconnection work in Uplyme, just upstream of Lyme Regis.

Doug Parker of the Environment Agency said: "This investigation work provides an excellent opportunity for us to identify, trace and stop pollution from a variety of sources. Misconnections are often difficult to pinpoint and can remain hidden for years.

"Once a misconnection is discovered we work with other agencies including water companies, local authorities, businesses and private homeowners to put it right. Each solved misconnection helps improve water quality in our rivers and streams as well as bathing waters and is great news for the environment."

The Environment Agency, South West Water, West Dorset District Council and Lyme Regis Town Council have been working together to find pollution sources and improve water quality before more stringent EU standards are introduced in 2015. If Lyme Regis fails, it would be forced to install signage warning visitors of the quality of water.

De-designation not an option

Councillors have previously discussed the option of de-designating the beach as a bathing beach, meaning it would not have to undergo the water testing, but were recently informed this would not be possible as they would have to prove that no one used the beach, which is actually quite popular throughout summer.

Many members said they would not like to see it de-designated even if it was possible, but would prefer to continue working to solve the problem.

Residents and businesses can help improve the local bathing water quality by checking their own properties to see if the drains are connected up correctly. There is a simple checklist that people can use at www.connectright.org.uk or they can contact the district council or visit www.environment-agency.gov.uk/homeandleisure/pollution for help and advice.

Residents can also help by supporting the Litter Free

Coast and Sea Campaign.

Matilda Bark, Litter Free Coast and Sea co-ordinator, said: "Little actions like not flushing wet wipes and sanitary items down the toilet or not pouring cooking fat down the sink can really help improve local bathing water quality. Even putting dog mess in the bin at the beach can help because it is very high in bacteria."

Councillor Mark Gage, chairman of the town council's Strategy and Policy Committee, added: "The quality of water in our rivers and streams is important to the town and its residents.

■ COUNCILLOR MARK GAGE: Water quality is important to town and residents

"In addition, bathing water quality is important to our visitors and the tourist economy. Anything that the Environment Agency can do to improve water quality is great news."

Richard Gilpin, head of waste water services for South West Water, said: "We recently announced that South West Water will be investing a further £500,000 to improve bathing water quality at Lyme Regis.

"The misconnections project will further eliminate sources of pollution and is a really good example of local organisations and the community working together to improve bathing water quality still further."

Residents invited to share ideas on D-Day anniversary

LYME Regis residents will get a say in how they would like to mark the 70th anniversary of D-Day at a public meeting next week.

Lyme Regis will next year mark the anniversary of the D-Day landings in Normandy on June 6th 1944.

Events will remember local men who lost their lives in the battle for Normandy and mark the presence of US troops who were based in Lyme Regis in the run-up to the invasion.

An initial meeting will take place on Wednesday, August 7th at 6pm in the Woodmead Halls for the community to share ideas.

The meeting is being organised by Lyme Regis Town Council and it is hoped a community group will emerge to take the plans forward.

Deputy town clerk Mark Tredwin said: "The meeting will be held to share ideas and formulate some thoughts as to how the planning for D-Day and the 70th anniversary of D-Day itself could be commemorated in Lyme Regis.

"We also want to remember the local people who lost their lives in D-Day.

"We want to know what kind of events the community would like to see next year.

"The 70th anniversary is on a Friday but there is an opportunity to hold a weekend of various activities."

The town council has already made contact with veterans of the US-based 16th Infantry Regiment, which was based in Lyme Regis in the run-up to D-Day.

Lyme Regis Museum will be heavily involved in researching and planning for next year's commemorations.

The museum is tracing all the Lyme Regis men who died in the battle for Normandy and intends to produce maps and a display covering all Lyme's casualties.

Museum director David Tucker added: "The Lyme Regis Museum is very pleased to be a part of the initiative to commemorate the 70th anniversary of the D-Day Landings in Normandy on 6 June 1944.

"The museum is keen to mark the sacrifice and courage of the local lads, either in the Dorsets or the Devons that died during the period between the landings and 'the breakout' in August that year.

"We already know of Private Cecil Gollop and Private Edward Broom who died fighting with the Dorset Regiment in June that year.

"The museum will do its best to track down and honour any other Lyme men who played their part in Northern France."

Some initial ideas for next year's commemoration events include involving local schools and children, tracing residents who remember the events of 1944, and arranging talks between the two generations.

The council is also in talks with Bovington Tank Museum to get involved in events.

Mr Tredwin said: "We hope to see as many local people as possible at the meeting next week to ensure Lyme Regis commemorates this important event in the way it deserves."

LOCAL GOVERNMENT - COUNCIL RESPONSIBILITIES

AFTER much negotiation and confusion over the responsibilities of the three local authorities on social networking websites recently, readers have requested that the View From lists the different responsibilities of the town, district and county councils.

Local government was reorganised in 1974, creating a three-tier system - town, district and county - rather than the previous two-tier system of borough/parish and county.

After much debate, Lyme Regis Town Council - formerly Lyme Regis Borough Council - ended up with many more responsibilities than first intended in the reorganisation.

The current principle responsibilities of each council are as follows:

Dorset County Council

- Highways;
- Education;
- Youth services;
- Social care for the elderly and vulnerable;
- Libraries;
- Trading standards

West Dorset District Council

- Elections;
- Council tax;
- Refuse collection;
- Environmental health, including dog fouling, fly-tipping, street cleaning, etc;
- Planning;
- Social housing;
- Leisure and culture facilities;
- Harbour management;
- Licensing;
- Car parks (Holmbush, Monmouth Beach, Cobb Gate and Van Allen's [behind Fordhams, Broad Street] and Charmouth Road);
- Toilets (Monmouth Beach, Cobb Arms, Broad Street, Charmouth Road and Holmbush car parks);
- Tourist Information Centre

Lyme Regis Town Council

- Seafront undertakings, including concessions, seafront business licenses, beach huts, etc. (The town council is responsible for Marine Parade, but the county council is responsible for the Cart Road up to the barrier near Rinky Tinks, as this is a highway. The varying responsibilities of the town, district and county councils with regards to Lyme Regis seafront were recently agreed upon in a tripartite agreement.);

- Public gardens and recreational areas, including Anning Road Playing Fields;
- Footpaths;
- Cemetery;
- Car Parks (Cabanya, Woodmead Halls);
- Toilets (Marine Parade, Anning Road Playing Fields);
- Planning recommendations, not decisions (these are sent to West Dorset for decision).

Lyme Regis Town Council, which has a turnover of more than £1 million a year, has 14 elected members, led by the Mayor, Councillor Sally Holman. Two town councillors, Daryl Turner and George Symonds, are also elected West Dorset district councillors and Councillor Turner won a seat on Dorset County Council in this year's elections to represent the Marshwood Vale, which includes Lyme Regis.

The full Lyme Regis Town Council (chaired by the mayor) meets once a month with other committees meeting throughout the month, including Strategy & Policy (chaired by Councillor Mark Gage), Town Management (chaired by Councillor Chris Clipson), Tourism & Economic Development (chaired by Councillor Jill Newton), Planning & Highways (chaired by Councillor Anita Williams) and the Human Resources Sub-Committee (chaired by the mayor).

The town council also has smaller working parties to discuss specific areas, such as the skatepark or playing fields, and committee chairmen hold regular meetings, although these are not held in public.

Principle officers of the town are the town clerk John Wright, deputy town clerk Mark Tredwin, finance Alison Hayward and two administration staff.

The town council also employs a team of enforcement officers, outside workers and seasonal staff to look after council property and the local gardens, managed by works supervisor Elliott Herbert.

■ MUSIC MAN: Lyme Regis born Andy Cable pictured outside his new Axe Music premises in George Street, Axminster, formerly occupied by Bath Travel

New premises for music shop

LYME Regis born music lover Andy Cable has moved his well established Axminster shop to a new premises.

Experienced musician Andy has been running Axe Music in Axminster's town centre for eight years and has recently taken occupation of the former Bath Travel premises in George Street. Before, the shop had been based in Milton's Yard and Castle Street.

Andy is a talented guitarist, having played in a number of bands over the years, and is one of the organisers of the Guitars On The Beach record-breaking event, scheduled to take place on Lyme Regis beach on September 7th, when an attempt will be made to form the world's biggest band and beat the record for the most guitarists paying one song at one time.

The existing record of around 1,700 guitarists is held by a town in Texas and but more than 2,000 strummers from all over the country have already registered to take part in the Lyme event, and will be coming together to play Buddy Holly's "Rave On" on what would have been the rock star's birthday.

Andy will be one of main guitarists in the house bnd that will lead the record attempt.

Axe Music specialises in new and second hand guitars and other instruments, amplification equipment and repairs. He also hires out equipment and band gear.

Andy told the View: "Moving to George Street will give us a greater profile in the town centre and we are looking forward to providing the same high standard of personal service for existing and new customers."

Mayor and guests welcome Navy ship

■ SHIP AT SUNSET: The HMS Sutherland anchored in Lyme Bay

THE Mayor of Lyme Regis, Councillor Sally Holman, and invited guests welcomed the Royal Navy to Lyme Regis as they went aboard HMS Sutherland, which visited the town for one night last week.

Britain's fastest frigate anchored in Lyme Bay last Tuesday evening and a group of community representatives were invited aboard for drinks and canapes, a tour of the ship, capability demonstrations by the 200-man crew and a sunset ceremony.

Guests included town, district and county councillors, Deputy Lieutenant of Dorset Minnie Churchill, many members of the lifeboat crew and representatives of other local groups.

The party were welcomed by Commanding Officer Al Wilson and Commodore Jamie Miller CBE RN, Naval Regional Commander Wales and Western England.

Commanding Officer Wilson said: "It's lovely to be here and we are very honoured to have the opportunity to invite you on board to see your Navy and your ship, as far as we are concerned."

Commodore Miller praised the mayor for maintaining links with the Navy, following a visit from HMS Edinburgh in May last year and again earlier this year before the ship was decommissioned.

At the end of the visit, the mayor presented Commanding Officer Wilson with a town crest and the gesture was reciprocated with Councillor Holman receiving HMS Sutherland's crest.

■ MOVING CEREMONY: Officers take part in the sunset ceremony, which the mayor later described as 'very moving'. Left, officers take the salute alongside Mayor Sally Holman and Deputy Lieutenant of Dorset, Minnie Churchill

LIFEBOAT WEEK OFF TO GREAT START

LYME Regis Lifeboat Week got off to a flying start at the weekend, with the weather holding up for displays by the Red Arrows and RAF Falcons Parachute Team on Friday.

The aerobatic favourites brought crowds of thousands into the town, who lined the beach, seafront and gardens to watch the spectacular performances.

Other opening events included a barbecue on the slipway manned by members of the lifeboat crew and a 20-20 cricket match between the crew and a team from Uplyme and Lyme Regis Cricket Club.

As the weather took a turn for the worse on Saturday, organisers were forced to cancel some events, including the Illuminated Boats, but there was still a full day of activities, starting with breakfast baps at the lifeboat station and continuing with an MX5 car display, beach treasure hunt, displays from the "Spirit of Loch Fyne" lifeboat and coastguards, belly dancing and more.

The fun continued on Sunday with the popular Bathtub Race, this year won by a team from Lyme Regis Fire Crew, and the fun run, which saw about 70 entrants take on the 2.5k course.

Legend to launch album at Marine for Guitars on the Beach weekend

BLUES guitar legend Robbie McIntosh is to give the world premiere performance of his new album at the Marine Theatre in Lyme Regis after falling in love at first sight with the historic playhouse.

Robbie, former lead guitarist with Paul McCartney, John Mayer and The Pretenders, changed his album launch plans after visiting the theatre for the first time last week.

The guitar star was in town to check out the venue where he will now give a three set opening concert for the Guitars On The Beach weekend, on Friday September 6th.

Following a tour of the theatre by manager Nigel Day, Robbie said: "I'm in love with the theatre already, I wish the gig was tomorrow night. It's a lovely theatre, there's not many like this left."

Weymouth-based Robbie, known in the music business as "the guitarist's guitarist" for his work with the greats, including Roger Daltrey, Chuck Berry, Mark Knopfler, Sir George Martin, Joe Cocker and Norah Jones, was planning a London launch for his eagerly-anticipated album, "Turn Up For The Books".

But now he is to launch it in Lyme instead at the exclusive show he is playing to kick off the Guitars On The Beach record attempt weekend.

Robbie was lead guitarist with Paul McCartney when the former Beatle set a world record in Rio de Janeiro for the biggest stadium show in history, playing to 184,000 Brazilians.

Although by contrast the Marine only holds 350 people, Robbie says it is perfect for his blues album launch.

He added: "I like the place so much I've decided to do three sets for the show. An acoustic set with my pals Steve Wilson and Jess Upton, and then two other sets with my band, featuring songs from the new album and old blues rock classics."

With two thirds of the tickets already sold weeks up-front of the September show, which will run from 8pm to 12midnight, "The Night With Robbie McIntosh" is expected to be a complete sell-out.

Theatre director Tim Bell said: "Tickets for The Robbie McIntosh are the fastest-selling we've ever seen. This is going to be a once in a lifetime night to remember."

■ LEGEND COMES TO LYME: Guitarist Robbie McIntosh (right) with theatre manager Nigel Day

The show will launch the Guitars on the Beach weekend, which is expected to see more than 2,000 guitarists attempt to break the record for the most people playing one song at one time on Lyme's beach on Saturday, September 7th, with the selected tune being Buddy Holly's "Rave On".

Tickets for the Robbie McIntosh show are available online at www.marinetheatre.com or from the Box Office on 01297 442138.

■ A "Rave On" workshop for Lyme's ukulele players will be held on Thursday, August 8th with Sally Vaughan, leader of Bridport's Bucky Don'ts ukulele group.

The workshop will be held from 6pm to 7.30pm in Lyme Regis, costing £10. Those interested should email info@guitarsonthebeach.co.uk or call 07533 900 537.

News in a nutshell...

Homewatch scheme launches in Lyme Regis

A PUBLIC meeting on the national Homewatch scheme, organised by police, was attended by about 12 residents interested in volunteering to launch the scheme in Lyme Regis.

Elaine Ryan, development officer at the Community Safety Department based at Dorchester Police Station, described how becoming involved in a Homewatch scheme, also known as Neighbourhood Watch, can not only make the local area a safer place and reduce house insurance, but also provide an excuse to get to know neighbours and keep an eye on those who might need help.

Co-ordinators for various areas of the town are needed to compile lists of householders in their area (maximum 30 houses) and to act as a contact point. Many co-ordinators also sometimes arrange social events for their neighbours to get to know one another.

By the end of the meeting, several areas had named co-ordinators but much of Lyme remains uncovered. Anyone interested in joining the Homewatch scheme should contact Lyme Regis Dafer Neighbourhood Team.

Scouts need your vote!

THE 1st Charmouth Scout Group needs funds to improve their scout hut.

However, help is on hand from Bridport Tyre Specialists who have nominated them as one of the local charities to benefit from the Kumho Tyres "Cash for Causes" initiative.

Anyone who wants to help them just needs to vote for them by clicking on <http://bit.ly/1c9vkUK>. If the scouts get enough votes and finish in the top two it will secure funds for the ongoing refurbishment of their dilapidated headquarters and help provide challenging outdoor activities for the cubs and scouts.

The group is currently in fourth place so needs as many votes as it can get.

Church stall raises over £1,000

■ A BEACH stall in aid of St Michael's Parish Church in Lyme Regis raised £1,134. Volunteers were kept busy all day on a number of stalls in the Marine Parade shelters, where there were plenty of passers-by on one of the hottest days of the year. Stalls included books, bric-a-brac, homemade cakes and a tombola. The money raised will go to general church funds.

Top accolade for Lyme hotel

THE Alexandra Hotel and Restaurant in Lyme Regis has picked up its first TripAdvisor Certificate of Excellence award.

The accolade is given to the top 10 per cent of businesses listed on the travel website and recognises the positive feedback given by guest to businesses who maintain an overall rating of four or higher out of five, over the past 12 months.

Hotel director Kathryn Haskins said: "We say to ourselves every day, 'what will make our guest stay a memorable experience?'

"It's wonderful that our efforts are translated into positive reviews on TripAdvisor.

"It is crucial that we never take for granted the special obligation in ensuring that a continuous high standard is kept and keeps our guest returning year after year.

"Our hope is that by being nominated we can increase the awareness of Lyme Regis on a global stage and bring more visitors to the town and region.

A touch of Caribbean cuisine comes to town

SUMMER in Uplyme has been spiced up with the arrival of a new food outlet, the Mary Jane van, which can be found parked on the forecourt of Uplyme Filling Station and Post Office every day.

The Caribbean-themed takeaway van is the brainchild of 20-year-old student Olivia Holmes, who has combined her love of cooking and her business degree to open the successful venture.

Olivia, who is currently on summer holiday from studying in Manchester, originally wanted to take the Mary Jane to festivals but was told she needed more experience, so her father, Mark Holmes, who runs the filling station, said she could have space on the forecourt to build up business.

Olivia has been running the takeaway with friends Julia Johnson, Jessica Chalkley and sister Freya to great success.

Throughout the week they serve breakfast baps, burgers, halloumi, chicken wraps and other refreshments but the girls have also been opening at special events where they are serving up Caribbean cuisine, including their popular jerk chicken, which was a sell-out at the recent Uplyme Summer Show.

They are now looking forward to other events during the summer, including Buckham Fair, Melplash Show and Lyme Folk Festival, as well as possible curry nights.

Olivia is now looking for someone to take on the venture during term-time as many of her regular customers have asked if she will be open during the winter.

The Mary Jane is open Monday to Saturday from 8am to 5pm or 6pm and on Sundays from 9am to 10am to 5pm or 6pm, depending on how busy they are.

St Michael's mark end of school year

CHILDREN at St Michael's Primary School were kept busy at the end of term, taking part in sports day, their summer show and the Year 6 leavers' service.

A new format at sports day was deemed a great success, with children grouped into mixed year teams to take part in a variety of activities, including traditional and novelty races as well as hockey, football and javelin.

The overall winners were the green team with captains Chet Gillespie and Michelle Quick picking up the trophy. A new award was also presented in memory of teaching assistant Fran Clark who died earlier this year for effort, enthusiasm and sportsmanship to the team which gained the highest points for sportsmanship, Yellow 3, with Maddy Sawyer as captain.

Alfie Bullmore was awarded the Year 6 cup for his overall contribution to sports during the year.

The school also celebrated the success of Michelle Quick who gained a gold medal with her partner in the South West Acrobatic Gymnastics (see page 21).

For their summer show Key Stage 2 children performed "The Big Green Adventure" by Colin Magee and Andrew Oxspring, telling the story in words and music of the dangers facing the world through climate change and the overuse of natural resources.

Sue Wiscombe headed the team of staff and helpers who created the set and costumes and guided the children through the show, while pianist Elaine Kendrick and drummer Glyn Rattenbury led the music.

The school said goodbye to its 28 Year 6 children in an emotional leavers' ceremony on the last day of term.

The children were presented with a book of prayers, cross and key ring to remember their primary school. The Rotary Club's Frank Mayes Award for consistent contribution and effort through the whole of their time at St Michael's was awarded to Jasmine Aldridge.

Pre-school visit fishing boat

ST Michael's Pre-School in Lyme Regis finished the summer term with a trip to the beach to board a local fishing boat.

The children were taken aboard "Kraken" by skipper Nick Williams and learnt about lots of different types of fish and sea life.

The pre-school tots then enjoyed making sandcastles on the beach, followed by fish and chips and an ice cream.

Thanks go to Mr Williams, the Harbour Inn and the Royal Standard for the loan of their umbrellas and Herbies Fish Bar for providing lunch and Ice Cream Dream for the ice creams.

The pre-school has had a very busy summer term. They celebrated a "good" Ofsted report took part in lots of activities, including weekly Wellie Walks and trips to community buildings, including the fire station, the library and the playing fields.

The pre-school children have also enjoyed visits from people who work within the community, including members of the lifeboat crew, medical centre nurses and the police.

The children have planted their own produce, including broad beans, potatoes, strawberries and tomatoes, and have all helped in watering, picking and cooking the food.

The pre-school team work together to prioritise individual needs of every child and use the local community and environment to support their play and learning.

They currently have spaces for children turning three to four years of age. Call 01297 442623 to book a tour and meet the staff.

The staff would like to wish good luck to all the children going on to school in September, they will be greatly missed.

Mini Mania!

THINK of the Sixties and you probably think of the Mini, an icon of the times and the star of The Italian Job. We hope to have more than a dozen Minis from various car clubs on the field today. So step back in time and immerse yourself in nostalgia!

The Mini is the car that, more than any other, has changed the face of motoring forever. One cannot imagine a cityscape without a Mini being present, but more significantly, it is impossible to look at a small car today without seeing very real evidence of the influence the Mini has had on it. Back in 1990, a panel of 100 industry experts and commentators voted it the most significant car of the century for Autocar Magazine in the UK. This sentiment was reflected by the readership of the magazine who, when polled, also named it the most important car of the century, voting it ahead of such cars as the VW Beetle, Ford Model T and Citroen DS.

Wyld Morris

WYLD Morris are a recently formed mixed Morris side of dancers and musicians dancing in the Cotswold tradition. The side was born in the autumn of 2010 out of a love of the Morris and the lack of local side that would accept a woman dancer!

If you think you might like to join us a dancer or musician, we would love to hear from you. We meet on Wednesdays evenings at Monkton Wyld Court, Charmouth at 7.30pm. We are learning as we go so you don't need any experience - just an enthusiasm to keep alive our traditional music and dance.

For details of when and where you can see us dancing, look at www.bredy.org.uk/wyldmorris/programme.html.

Medical practice gets new look

LYME Bay Medical and Dental Practices at Kent House in Lyme Regis has been given a new-look after making changes to its dental services.

The practice recently won a contract to provide a new NHS dental service to the Lyme Regis and Charmouth communities, which started at the beginning of July, with two dentists - Paul Bester and Victor Spencer, who previously worked in Charmouth - and hygienist Audrey Roberts. A third dentist will also be joining the team later this year creating a full complement of staff.

The new dental service has been closely integrated to the existing medical service, providing "better joined-up care" for patients.

The integration includes a new-look joint reception area, providing much more space for patients, while other recent improvements at the practice have included a new state of the art dental suite and decontamination room, and rearrangement in the car park.

Dentist Paul Bester switched from offering NHS services to a private plan last year but, following the award of the new contract, the practice is offering NHS services again and is now taking on new dental patients.

■ HOSTS: Honorary Life President of the Lyme Regis branch of the Conservative Association, Ken Meech, thanks Minnie Churchill and Simon Bird for hosting the event with a bouquet of flowers

Conservatives host summer concert

SOME 70 members and guests of the West Dorset Conservative Association enjoyed an evening of classical and romantic music at Ware House, Lyme Regis, the home of Deputy Lieutenant of Dorset Minnie Churchill and her partner Simon Bird.

The evening commenced with champagne and canapés on the terrace of the house followed by the concert by Carole Howat on the violin and her sister, Vyvian Bronk, on the piano.

Carole had travelled from Glasgow to be with her sister, who lives in Lyme Regis with her husband Richard and family.

Carole is a freelance violinist with the Scottish National Orchestra and Vyvian plays regularly in recitals, and has played with the Baden Ensemble.

The music included a selection of work by Mozart, Beethoven and Chopin, including Brahms and French songs sung by Vyvian. Work by Fats Waller and Billy Mayerl also featured.

Eric Tomlinson, chairman of the Lyme Regis branch of the Conservative Association, thanked Carole and Vyvian for their performance. The ladies were presented with bouquets of red roses by Ken Meech, Honorary Life President of the branch.

A further bouquet of flowers was presented by Mr Meech to Mrs Churchill and Mr Bird for their hospitality in hosting the event.

A buffet dinner, prepared by Audrey Velacott, Ben the chef and her team at the Beach House Cafe, followed the concert.

At the end of the evening, a raffle was held with the proceeds going to the Alzheimers Research Trust.

Arrows please the crowds

IT may not have been the biggest audience on record and it may not have been the bluest sky, but the Red Arrows are always a top crowd pleaser.

I woke up on Friday to a glorious blue sky and thought it was a perfect day.

I was also hopeful that, with new camera in hand, this year I could get that iconic shot of the planes zooming over the Cobb with a sunny backdrop. Harder than it seems, my front page picture looks a little more grey than hoped!

Nevermind... as the clouds drifted into town so did thousands of visitors keen to see the Red Arrows' ever-popular display.

They weren't able to complete their full repertoire of aerobatic tricks but the Arrows never like to disappoint and returned, having assessed the cloud after their first half, to perform it all over again resulting in one of the longest displays in the 40 or so years they have been visiting the town (27 minutes, I am told).

They finished with a spectacular fly-past over the Cobb with full coloured smoke, winning huge cheers from the crowds and giving me my only useable shot of the display - much to my relief!

Red 10, Squadron Leader Mike Ling, provided commentary throughout the display on top of the seafront shelters and was presented with a photo of the "Spirit of Loch Fyne" lifeboat by the crew's youngest member, 18-year-old Peter Cable, as a thank you for all the money the Arrows had helped the RNLI raise over the years - it must be tens of thousands.

Although they do the same all over the country, all year round, Lyme Regis seems to hold the Arrows close to its heart as one of its favourite and certainly most popular events of the year.

This sentiment was echoed when a balloon launch was held in Lyme to remember pilot Jon Egging - Red 4 - after his tragic death in 2011.

I don't think I have ever watched the Red Arrows anywhere but Lyme Regis, except on the television, but it must be one of the best and most beautiful arenas in which to see them... cloudy or not!

The bathing machine is back...

IT'S probably been sometime since Lyme Regis has seen one of these on its shores, but the traditional bathing machine is back thanks to local artist Sarah Thomas.

Sarah has created this full-sized bathing machine, alongside several handmade deckchairs, as part of Lyme Regis ArtsFest's recollection project, a collaboration with Lyme Regis Museum in which artists take inspiration from museum artefacts to create new bodies of work.

Sarah has turned her bathing machine into a mini-museum, with shelves full of modern "artefacts" created by local young people in workshops led by her this past spring. They vary from sculpture and textiles to story-telling and sound recordings.

The deckchairs have also been turned into storybooks with each fabric strip depicting different aspects of Lyme's heritage.

Both installations will be on the Cart Road throughout Lifeboat Week and Regatta & Carnival Week.

What I'm doing this week...

TOMORROW I am off on my annual trip to the Camp Bestival music festival in the grounds of Lulworth Castle so fingers crossed for good weather, as I'm not really a happy camper in the rain!

While I'm away I'll also be hoping the sun shines in Lyme Regis for the finale of Lifeboat Week and opening of Regatta & Carnival Week - another busy weekend for those of you staying in town.

Before I leave, I'm covering the town council meeting tonight (Wednesday) but hopefully I'll also be able to head down to the Cobb Arms for the Yard of Ale Competition (just as a spectator, of course!), starting at 8pm, followed by music by local band Delta Tango 7.

There's more Lifeboat Week entertainment tomorrow night with the Famous Nag's Head Barbecue and music by Real World, starting at 8.30pm.

The week finishes on Friday with the duck race at 12noon from Windsor Terrace, music by the Black-down Steel band at 7.30pm and fireworks at 10pm.

There'll be no time to rest and Regatta & Carnival Week immediately follows on Saturday with a packed programme of family fun.

It's also the annual Charmouth Fayre, starting with a parade down The Street at 1.45pm to Barrs Lane Playing Field for the opening at 2pm and Party in the Park at 7pm.

Back in Lyme Regis, carnival highlights will include the family dog show and huge variety of children's activities.

I'll be home in time to dash alongside the Wheeled Derby on Monday night - one of my favourite Lyme events - starting at 7pm from the Ship Inn in Coombe Street and heading along Marine Parade. Don't miss it!

Town can now return to normal after tough year

WITH the re-opening of the Beaminster Tunnel this week, Beaminster is looking forward to returning to its bustling self. It's been a tough year.

There was no fanfare marking the opening, only a simple drive-through after the completion of works by Dorset County Council which have taken the best part of the year, longer than expected but necessary nonetheless.

The circumstances surrounding the closure of the tunnel were far too tragic to mark the occasion in no more than a dignified declaration that Beaminster is back on the map and open for business.

The town, of course, has always been open for business during the past 12 difficult months. But the closure of the A3066, the main link between West Dorset and South Somerset, for such a long time has had a real impact on local trade.

But Beaminster has a reputation for pulling together, especially in difficult times, and the past year has certainly proved that the town's community spirit has never been more vibrant.

The tragedy which claimed two lives brought the town into the national spotlight but as always the people of Beaminster reacted with dignity.

County councillor Rebecca Knox summed up the feeling of the town when she commented after the opening: "It's a real relief for everybody. The community have just been looking forward to this day for over a year now, but have understood that it had to be restored safely."

Beach hut allocation 'smacks of connivance'

■ I READ with keen interest the letter headed "Beach hut allocation system unfair" by Chris Boyce (July 24th) and would have to whole heartedly agree with him.

It is atrocious the way in which the system - or non-system - works, and moreover it smacks of total connivance in so much as it seems rather strange that certain people always seem to be able to obtain the dates or length of time they want in a beach hut, whereas others do not get a look in.

I write from experience of the said matter. Last year, for example, I had two mobile phones and a land line phone running to try and obtain a hut on the given day and time one is expected to phone in on and waste a whole day.

Funnily enough I only managed to get through at 1.40pm despite phoning continuously from 10am, the given time. Once through the comment was: "Sorry, Mrs Emm, there are no annual lets free, they went in the first five minutes!"

My husband finally got through at 2.15pm and managed to negotiate some available slots over the year, but, far from having a whole year, which was our preference.

Moreover it was far more expensive rather than a continual year slot in one hut. As a disabled person and on limited means this has caused a great deal of distress.

Many other people also have wasted a day trying to get through and the queue jumping that occurs makes it even more difficult for people to get a fair wack at trying to obtain a beach hut.

I know of quite a few others who are far from happy with what they have managed, or not managed, to get in regards to a beach hut and most are not at all happy in the way in which allocations are made.

It is certainly far from being a democratic way in which they are allocated and requires better handling in the future by the town council.

We, as well as other beach hut devotees, have complained verbally to the local council offices in respect of the poor service and allocation system and have discussed a fairer way of dealing with the matter, but to no avail.

It is understandable that the council would find it difficult to deal with what is in fact a business skill, as I expect none have had any real time training or actual work within the business sector or suitable life skills, as ultimately public sector working frames have little to no understanding on how a business model operates.

Perhaps it is time for the council office to discuss with interested parties of the general public, prior to the allocation date, in finding a better solution and way forward to provide a democratic working system for all to obtain a beach hut which could and should be fair to all.

Was anyone else asked to bid for EU funding?

■ DID the town clerk ask anyone other than Lyme Regis Development Trust (LRDT) when "asked to come back with further ideas to put forward" for EU funding? ("Does LymeNet have a future", View from Lyme Regis, July 24th).

Maybe he asked LymeForward, which LRDT is paid by the town council to manage to do something broadly connected with co-ordinating things... and LymeForward recommended a project from LRDT?

If this did happen, did LymeForward meet and have a vote? Who was present?

And how did LRDT decide which of their various projects to put forward? Did they meet and have a vote? Who was present?

Lyme girls go for gold

TWO Lyme Regis girls have won gold for their gymnastics skills at the regional championships.

Shelly Quick and Katie Studley, both members of Honiton Gymnastics Club, won gold making them South West Champions.

A medal-winning performance from Shelly and her partner, Erin Blackmore, saw the pair achieve the highest score of the whole competition.

Katie also excelled and won gold in the girl's trio section along with Emma Saunders and Chloe-Mae Outram. Katie also helps coach at the Ammonite Gymnastics Club held regularly at The Hub youth club in Lyme Regis.

The Honiton club also won gold in the women's pair, mixed pair and trio sections.

The results, which confirmed Honiton's junior gymnasts as among the best in the region, were a fitting end to another successful acrobatic gymnastics season.

LIZZY IN THE LIMELIGHT!

Limehouse Lizzy play the Electric Palace

RENOWNED for an action-packed explosion of a show, Limehouse Lizzy continue to keep the spirit of Celtic rock icon Philip Lynott and his band Thin Lizzy alive, well and dominating stages worldwide – including Bridport's Electric Palace on Friday, August 9th.

Limehouse Lizzy are officially one of the hardest working bands in the UK. They were accredited for their live shows by the Performing Rights Society last year, and received their certificate from PRS Chairman (and respected songwriter) Guy Fletcher OBE. The band have also added a tribute into their show to ex-Thin Lizzy guitarist (and world renowned solo artist) Gary Moore who sadly passed away last year. Attention to detail, playful audience interaction and that all important X-factor that leaves you with the feeling of witnessing the real thing have led to their performance being described as "beyond tribute", by both audience and critics alike.

Following the enormous success of their 'Live & Dangerous' and 'Dedication' tours, the band embarked upon their 'Into the Limelight' tour to tie in with their appearance on an episode of BBC2's Arena documentary series of the same name. The tour travelled as far as a headline slot at a Rock festival in Greece, and the Virgin Atlantic Music festival in Barbados. The band appeared alongside diverse world music acts, and played a Thin Lizzy set representing the Celtic rock genre.

In 2013 the band's European tour continues to explore and celebrate the artistic and musical legacy of the hard-living, hard-rocking, yet at times surprisingly tender and romantic artist that was Philip Lynott. This year they will be appearing in the UK, Ireland, Germany, France, Holland and Belgium.

Expect more of the Celtic influenced tracks like Whisky in the Jar and Black Rose, amongst the usual razzamatazz and classic tracks The Boys are Back in Town, Sarah and many others we've come to expect from one of the most highly rated acts on the circuit.

Limehouse Lizzy play the Electric Palace, Bridport on Friday, August 9th.

Advance tickets (£15.50) are available from Bridport TIC: 01308 424901 and online at seetickets.com or £17 on door.

Edinburgh Fringe hit comes to Dorset

Ewan Wardrop brings Formby to three local venues

FOLLOWING a successful tour last year, Ewan Wardrop's Formby returns for a 23 venue national tour this year. 'Formby' charts George Formby's rise from awkward stable boy to one of Britain's biggest stars. In a one-man performance Ewan Wardrop plays the role of Formby, as well as other the key characters involved in this slice of his life.

Formby is written by Ewan Wardrop and co-devised and directed by Co-Artistic Director of Salida Productions Ed Hughes. It is not only a celebration of one of Britain's greatest performers, but a funny, touching and thoughtful look at the life of an essentially ordinary man with an extraordinary talent.

The production features many of George Formby's classic hits brilliantly recreated by Wardrop on the ukulele, including Blackpool Rock, Leaning On a Lamp-Post, When I'm Cleaning Windows, TT Races, Mr Wu and many more.

Ewan Wardrop is an actor, dancer and musical comedian, appearing regularly on the comedy circuit as well as on stage and on screen. He initially trained as a dancer and was a principal performer with Matthew Bourne's company Adventures in Motion Pictures. He played leading roles in Swan Lake, Nutcracker! and The CarMan. For Play Without Words, Ewan was part of the original cast, for which Bourne won an Olivier Award for Best Choreography in 2003.

As an actor recent credits include Enron in the West End, Headlong Theatre's award winning play directed by Rupert Goold, Terence Rattigan's The Deep Blue Sea and Rattigan's Nijinsky at the Chichester Festival Theatre directed by Philip Franks and in the films Mr.Happy directed by Eugene Magee and Waiting For Sunrise directed by Gary Morecambe. He has also worked with companies including Complicite, the Royal Shakespeare Company and award winning comedy acapella group Barbershop-Opera.

For the Edinburgh Fringe 2012, Ewan wrote and starred in a one man play entitled Formby about the life of the comedian and ukulele player George Formby. While at the festival, Ewan was invited to play on several other shows including Nicholas Parsons' Happy Hour and Comedian and 8 out of 10 Cat's Team Captain Jon Richardson's sell-out show at Assembly Hall.

Salida Productions are Ed Hughes, Michael Vale and Andrea Pelaez with Sir Kenneth Branagh as their patron. Formed in 2009, their first production was Romeo and Juliet with Astillero Tango Orchestra a co-production between Salida and the Mercury Theatre Colchester. The production was awarded an Unesco High Achievement Award.

Formby comes to Dorchester Arts Centre on Friday, August 9th at 8pm (tickets £12/£10 from the box office 01305 266926 or www.dorchesterarts.org.uk), Bridport Arts Centre on Saturday, August 10th at 8pm (tickets £12/£11 from the box office on 01308 424204 or www.bridport-arts.com), and the Marine Theatre in Lyme Regis on Sunday, August 11th at 7.30pm (tickets £12/£10 from the box office on 01297 442138 or www.marinetheatre.com - a TheatreFriends discount is available).

All the fun of the circus

BIG Top thrills, spills and excitement are on offer for spectators at Billy Smarts Circus in Weymouth.

The attraction, which is in town until Tuesday, August 6th, offers audiences everything from trapeze artists high over their heads to clowning, acrobats and jugglers.

More than 20 artists are put through their paces twice a day with afternoon and evening performances.

Spokesman Sammy Little said: "Tickets are going well, particularly as the school summer holidays have started."

"It is a long time since we have been in Weymouth and it is at least 20 years since we have done a national tour like this."

The circus Big Top towers nearly 40ft over the audience while seating can accommodate 800 people.

Anyone wanting more information or who would like to book tickets can contact the box office on 0844-4155228.

Summer 2013 Robert Dempsey

When did you join?

I used to come to Judo classes here as a child! I started using the facilities again in March 2013 and really came through the Exercise National Scheme.

How often do you use the Fitness Suite?

Three to four times a week and I also bring my daughter swimming every week.

What is your favourite piece of equipment?

I LOVE the new punch bag because I can work as hard as I want on it and give it everything.

What do you like about the Centre?

It's friendly and I feel comfortable here. The staff and having my own personal program to aim for has helped to keep me motivated.

Congratulations from all the Staff at Bridport Leisure Centre

Trainers Comments: "Coming into week 8 we are starting to see some fantastic results Rob has lost nearly 2 stone in 8 weeks which is an average of 3.5 pounds per week. His waist size has gone down by 11 cm and his Fitness Test has sky rocketed. It just shows that with the correct training and nutrition anything is achievable.

Rob's Comments: "I wouldn't have got these results by training on my own. Having the Personal Trainers at Bridport Leisure Centre advising me on what to eat and pushing me through every training session has given me huge improvements"

Trainer Tip

Everybody needs a goal in order to achieve the body they have always wanted. You could do this through setting yourself a target amount of weight to lose per week however we prefer to use measurements. As Personal Trainers we are trying to get our clients to develop lean muscle which will help them to burn body fat, so the weight on the scale may not change but your body measurements will. An example goal would be to lose 4cm from your waist in one month.

Burton Bradstock Festival of Music and Art

WHILE some people stick to liking just one type of music, most people have quite wide tastes - but the important thing is, it must be played well! If you have diverse tastes then there should be something for you in the week long selection of concerts that make up the Burton Bradstock Festival. Whether it is Folk or Classical, Jazz or Opera, or lots of tastes in between, we can guarantee that it will all be played by Internationally renowned musicians and you will be in for some real musical treats!

Take Jazz - we have three musicians playing on Tuesday 13th who almost defy categorisation! Russell Bennett is a trumpeter who is well known to Burton audiences for playing with his group Sixpac but this time he is playing with Sandy Burnett, double bass player and Broadcaster and with pianist David Gordon. David is also a harpsichordist and a composer who tends to attract reviews such as 'incredible' or 'eye-opening'! If you like an evening of laid-back Jazz then this could be for you.

However, if you like Opera (and we hope you'll like both) then Thursday 15th celebrates the birthdays two hundred years ago of two giants of the Opera world, Verdi and Wagner. Mezzo soprano Claire Bradshaw will be singing arias from two of Verdi's Operas but there will also be Wagner's gorgeous Siegfried Idyll which was a birthday present for his wife Cosima. The wonderful clarinetist Anna Hashimoto, who wowed audiences last year will also be back to play a Fantasy on Verdi's Rigoletto.

And if you have really diverse musical tastes then you must come to some of the late-night concerts that start at 9.45pm (after free soup and a roll) and which star all the musicians in different and often unusual combinations. These late night gems allow the musicians to play the pieces they have always wanted to play but often don't get the opportunity because concert programmes tend to favour the already well known pieces. Do come and give them a try - you could be very pleasantly surprised!

For more details see the advert below.

Illyria Present The Mikado

GET your picnic baskets ready and head to the Millennium Green for Illyria's open air performance of Gilbert and Sullivan's Far Eastern tale of love and bumbling bureaucrats.

In the town of Titipu flirting has been made illegal. The penalty is death. Too bad then that the main culprit is the Lord High Executioner Ko-Ko, who wishes to marry his beautiful young ward Yum-Yum, and who has no intention of executing himself. So when Nanki-Pu arrives in Titipu and declares his love for Yum-Yum, Ko-ko has the perfect candidate for execution. Except that Yum-Yum, by tradition, would have to be executed with Nanki-Pu. And Nanki-Pu turns out to be the Mikado's own son. And the Mikado himself is about to arrive on a state visit to Titipu....

This wonderful comic opera, although set in Japan, is very much a parody of British politics, institutions and public life - and although written in the 19th century is surprisingly relevant in the 21st!

The Mikado will be performed on Tuesday 6 August, 7pm and is suitable for ages 8+

Tickets are available from Bridport Arts Centre box office on 01308 424204 or online www.bridport-arts.com

Call for talent in Walditch

THE first Walditch Talent Show takes place at the Hyde Tennis Court on Sunday, August 4th. Musicians, tap dancers, magicians and singers will be performing and the organisers would welcome more Walditchians, both children and adults, to come forward. Anyone interested in taking part should contact Chris Prideaux on 01308 422619.

Walditch's own Levi Gale will give a special demonstration of his real tennis skills as he prepares for the British Under 18 Tournament in London in August. Levi is a member of our British Real Tennis Development Squad.

There will also be face-painting for the children and prizes for the best fancy dress. From 1pm, Jalopy Pizza will be cooking their famous pizzas in a wood fired oven set up in their vintage van. The Walditch WI will be serving tea and cake later in the afternoon.

One of the village team, Colette Hill, said: 'The family day is designed to build on the sense of community in upper and lower Walditch engendered by last year's party to celebrate the Queen's Silver Jubilee and our coronation celebrations last month. We look welcoming everyone who lives here, their families and friends, for what we hope will be a very special day.'

A teddy bear friendly evening of wildlife stories

Dress up in your finest 'outdoor' pyjamas and bring along your favourite furry friend for a very special evening of stories and exploring at Max Gate.

CHILDREN and families are being invited to join Dorset based environmental education company Green Mash Ed on Friday 9th August at Max Gate, Dorchester for fun and adventure in the 'wilds' of Thomas Hardy's garden.

Green Mash will be leading an exploration of the garden at dusk and finding out what creatures are about at that time of day. After that it's time to settle down in the storytelling tent for some bedtime stories all about wildlife – and maybe some teddy bears! Children are encouraged to join the camp out and tick off one of the '50 things to do before you're 11 ¾', the campaign rolled out by the National Trust to ensure a fun filled summer.

The evening starts at 6.30pm, with story time from around 7.00pm, and finishes at 8.30pm. The session costs £4.50 per child and is suitable for children aged 4-10 years. Teddy bears get in free.

For further information please visit www.greenmashed.co.uk. Anyone wishing to book should call Max Gate on 01305 262 538

Divine Fire

'DIVINE Fire', so far only seen in the London area, is coming to Bridport Arts Centre for one night only on Saturday, August 3rd at 7.30pm.

Interwoven with some of Chopin's loveliest piano works, Divine Fire traces the relationship of Fryderyk Chopin and the authoress George Sand from their first meeting in Paris in 1836 until their parting in 1849.

Based on original correspondence, the story unfolds through Susan Porrett's compelling narration of events, interspersed with mood-evoking piano pieces... fiery scherzos, heart-rending ballades and stirring polonaises... played by the great Chopin interpreter, Viv McLean.

Viv McLean trained at the Royal Academy of Music, and has performed with major orchestras, including the Royal Philharmonic.

Susan Porrett will be known for her role in Upstairs Downstairs, as the under-housemaid, Alice, and has a long list of TV and film credits, seasons with the Royal Shakespeare Company, and two years at the National Theatre.

To book tickets call the Box Office on 01308 427 183. For more details visit www.sevenstarconcerts.com stories behind some of the 300 objects from the David Bowie Archive, many of which have never before been displayed in public.

The Victoria & Albert Museum has been given unprecedented access to the David Bowie Archive to curate the first international retrospective of the extraordinary career of David Bowie.

In many ways the perfect exhibition, it showcases the glittering career of one of the most versatile and thoughtful artists that the UK has produced. The range of collaborations with artists and designers in the fields of fashion, sound, graphics, theatre, art and film is astonishing. The music is wonderful too.

The exhibition is like an impression of Bowie himself, constantly surprising, fun, curious and compelling.

The V&A's Theatre and Performance curators, Victoria Broackes and Geoffrey Marsh have selected handwritten lyrics, original costumes, fashion, photography, film, music videos, set designs, Bowie's own instruments and album artwork.

On display will be Ziggy Stardust bodysuits (1972) designed by Freddie Burdett, photography by Brian Duffy; album sleeve artwork by Guy Peellaert and Edward Bell; visual excerpts from films and live performances including The Man Who Fell to Earth, music videos such as Boys Keep Swinging and set designs created for the Diamond Dogs tour (1974). Alongside these will be more personal items such as never-before-seen storyboards, handwritten set lists and lyrics as well as some of Bowie's own sketches, musical scores and diary entries, revealing the evolution of his creative ideas.

The Charge Your Car app: a bright new future for electric vehicle infrastructure LAUNCHED in July 2013, the free Charge Your Car (CYC) app is a world-first in app technology using emerging state-of-the-art charge point management, mapping and mobile payment technologies to allow users to find charge points, plan a route, start and stop a session and, uniquely, pay for a charge at all app-ready charge points across the growing CYC national network.

Developed by Charge Your Car Limited, a British company and a field leader, the app gives a bright new future to recharging infrastructure in the UK which, until now, had many regional networks of charge points with closed membership schemes, incompatible makes of charge points and required multiple scheme subscriptions.

Charge Your Car is not only the first pay-as-you-go service but the first time that drivers, charge point owners, public sector organisations such as local authorities operating regional networks, private sector companies like network operators, supermarkets and hotels – and charge point manufacturers have been brought together in an open network accessible to all. Charge Your Car was launched in 2010 as a regional network and is now expanding to become a national network and the introduction of the app makes it easier than ever for both drivers and charge point operators. The app features a live map that shows the current status of all charge points across the network.

The CYC network also works with the CYC 'lifetime card', a single RFID card that can be used across the UK with all charge points on the network. To pay for charging, users simply register their debit or credit card, which links to their CYC app and lifetime card. There is also an existing pay-by-phone system as well as a helpline for technical support and advice.

At present, the CYC network comprises 1,500 charge points, of which currently 20% can be operated using the app. The aim with the projected growth of the CYC network over the next few years is that EV drivers are always within range of a charge point and CYC intends to licence the CYC live status map to electric vehicle manufacturers and satellite navigation companies.

The launch of the app is set against a backdrop of gradual progress for electric vehicles in the UK, which has slipped from being the European leader to number 15 in the rankings according to the European Automotive Association (based on electric vehicles per head). Alexandra Prescott, operations manager at CYC says: "The groundbreaking technology used in the CYC app brings benefits to drivers, charge point providers and electric vehicle manufacturers – it is a great boost to our industry and the UK's charging infrastructure and is a big step forward in priming the market for electric vehicles."

The app is available to download free from the Apple App Store or Google Play. www.chargeyourcar.org.uk

Honda tops What Car? reliability chart for eight years running

HONDA has once again been named the most reliable car manufacturer in the annual What Car? and Warranty Direct Reliability Survey. This result means Honda has taken the much sought after title for an unprecedented eight years in a row, further reinforcing Honda's reputation for building rock-solid, dependable cars.

This achievement is attributed to Honda's robust manufacturing practices which have resulted in low failure rates and lower than average repair costs for customers.

The What Car? and Warranty Direct Reliability Survey is based on real claims data and is a compilation of reviews and opinions of over 50,000 car owners. It takes into account the average yearly repair costs, common model issues and the owners overall reliability score for their car.

Honda models feature prominently throughout the survey with the British built Jazz and Civic continuing to do well in their respective classes, as does the Accord, while the HR-V was named the most reliable compact SUV.

Chas Hallett, editor in chief, What Car? magazine added "Eight years at the top of the annual What Car? / Warranty Direct Reliability study is a remarkable achievement for Honda. This study is based on hard facts and figures and is confirmation that Honda makes great cars that are unlikely to let down their owners."

Phil Crossman, Managing Director, Honda (UK) commented: "Reliability is at the heart of all our research, development and manufacturing processes and this ensures we build reliable and high quality cars. We strive to deliver an enjoyable and hassle free Honda ownership to all our customers, from the moment they purchase, right through the lifetime of the car.

"Success in reliability studies further proves the dedication, skill and passion of our engineers, associates and dealer network. We are incredibly proud to be the most reliable manufacturer in the industry – yet again!"

What Car? isn't the only title to recognise Honda's bullet proof reliability. It follows hot on the heels of the Which? Car Reliability and Best Buy survey which saw the Jazz and Insight taking the top spots in their respective categories.

Check out www.honda.co.uk/cars for further details on Honda's full range of vehicles.

Dacia Sandero becomes UK's "least depreciating" new car

- Sandero Access, "UK's most affordable new car" forecast to lose only £3,615 over three years/60,000 miles.
- Low depreciation on top-of-the-range Sandero Laureate over three years/60,000 miles means owners could be nearly £4,000 better off than running pricier rivals like Skoda Fabia and Suzuki Swift.
- New figures shatter any illusion that the UK's "most affordable" new supermini range might not stack up financially in the future.

WITH supermini style and space for city car money, Dacia's Sandero is already proving a smash hit in the UK, having found homes for 4,000 already. Jaw-dropping prices from only £5,995 probably have a lot to do with it.

But, a "shockingly affordable" price tag is one thing, the question on many peoples' lips recently has been how much one'll be worth in a few years time. Well, now we have the answer.

In yet another blow to its rivals, but a boost to those who've already taken the Dacia supermini ownership plunge, leading residual value provider, CAP, has confirmed that over a three year period and 60,000 miles the Access 1.2 16V will only lose £3,615 of its smart-buy retail price of £5,995. Even the top-sec Laureate with the same engine only loses a further £1,400, making it thousands of pounds less than its rivals to boot.

The new figures make the idea of owning one even more appealing than it was already. And they shatter any illusion that one of the newest superminis on the block might not stack up financially after the shine of its alluring showroom price tag has faded.

Smart-buy choice over rivals

Sandero prides itself on big car features and technology, with small car prices. Its attractive design doesn't detract from its practical personality, with ample space for five adults and plenty of boot space. It's also the UK's most affordable new diesel car.

The 1.2 Laureate, is forecast to be worth an impressive 36% after three years - a stonking 6% more than Skoda's Fabia 1.2 12V SE, and a whopping 8% more than a Suzuki Swift SZ3 1.2.

Put it another way, the Swift has a P11D value of £12,444, but is forecast to lose £8,919 over three years/60,000 miles. If you bought the Dacia Sandero 1.2 Laureate instead, you'd be better off to the tune of almost £4,000 after three years. That's easily enough cash left over to treat the loved ones to a sun-drenched fortnight in Spain. Including Dacia car hire while you're out there. Or, a healthy chunk of cash to put towards a new Sandero. Who knows, owners might be so impressed with their Dacia supermini that they'll want to add another model from the range to their household.

Glass's Guide is even more bullish. They believe it'll hold onto a jaw-dropping 57% of its value over the same period. In real money, it'll still be worth £4,470. A drop of only £2,370, less than plenty of all-inclusive family holidays to the Med.

The latest good news for Europe's fastest-growing car brand comes only weeks after it launched its latest two models, Sandero Stepway and the five-seat estate, Logan MCV across the UK. Duster has already received a glowing endorsement from CAP and, with over 4,000 orders already this year, is taking the nation by storm too. The rest of the range now looks set to follow.

Commenting on the latest "good news", Dacia UK Marketing Director, Phil York, said: "It's only a few months since the Dacia Duster SUV got a glowing endorsement from the people who forecast future used car values, yet already we're celebrating the same for the second car in the range.

"We always knew that a cracking entry price of only £5,995 would get Brits through the showroom door in their droves. This latest news now makes the deal for arguably one of the best value superminis even sweeter. If we carry on like this, we might have to call the factory to up the production for the UK."

Testament to the quality

British popularity of Dacia, a subsidiary of the French carmaker Renault, is continuing to grow impressively, with the brand recently hitting 11,000 orders overall. It's made an enemy of the unnecessary and makes a simple range of cleverly designed, high quality vehicles which unashamedly favour function over frivolity. Its jaw-dropping prices are clear and straightforward, whether you buy online at the Dacia Store on www.dacia.co.uk or through its nationwide retailer network.

Dacia only launched officially in the UK in January 2013, but has already cleaned up nine major awards, including a hat-trick of trophies at the car-buyer.co.uk 2013 awards, including Car of Year and 4x4 of the Year, plus Scottish Car of the Year for Duster, and

Bowls round-up

Successful Ladies captain's day

LYME REGIS BC with Paul Moffitt
LYME Regis men came away with seven points from their encounter with Dorchester 'A', unlucky not to be eight but Dorchester conjured up four shots against Don Meylan's team on the last end to force a draw.

The men's 'A' team came unstuck against Bridport 'A' securing only two points thanks to a win on Alan Preece's rink.

The 'B' team were unfortunate in their game against Sherborne 'A' having to lose a quarter of their points on Richard Cridge's rink because they were forced to play with just three players!

Although the ladies were not in action in the league they did entertain six invited teams to partake in the annual Lady Captain's Day.

Fifty seven people attended, players plus guests, who played bowls to determine the winner of the Captain's Cup and finished with a fine spread and presentation in the Clubhouse.

The Winners of the Captains Cup were Chardstock. Their team was: Sheila Jeffrey, Sue Dando, Ann Fresher & Phylis Baldwin.

Winners of the Lyme Plate were: Jan Parsons, Tina Poyner, Debbie Mayo & Sheila Cox.

Captain Ann Allman thanked everyone for taking part with especial mention to the ladies who worked so hard behind the scenes to provide the food.

On the friendly front it was won one, lost one against Sherborne and Severalls respectively.

BRIDPORT BC

BRIDPORT'S men finally scored maximum points for the first time this season when beating Portland Borstal Officers 64-53 at Priory Lane in County League Division One last week.

Ben Jones, Brian Iversen, Keith Gentry and Bill Payne just held on to win 23-21 after leading 22-16 with five ends to go, while Barry Shortland, Keith Brooks, Brian Conisbee and Chris Thorne were always in command in their 22-14 victory.

David Roberts, Tom Tocher, Bob Taylor and Brian Rumble had a real scare before edging home 19-18 to claim the bonus points that had so far eluded them despite running neck and neck with Lyme Regis for the title.

Leading 17-6 after 14 ends they saw their lead whittled away as the victors picked up 11 shots on the next four ends to draw level, before they regained control.

Bridport A recorded a 58-49 victory over Lyme Regis A in Division Two.

Craig Boshier, Bob Seadon, Paul Tibble and Derek Hoskins came through to win 21-16 after being tied at 9-9 after 13 ends.

Meanwhile, Max Dare, Mike Smith, Peter Scott and Ken Sanger left it later being tied at 14-14 after 17 ends before taking the points 21-16.

Unfortunately Fred Pomeroy, John Ireland, John Carter and Clive Langdon tried in vain to recover from a 5-15 deficit at halfway, but eventually went down 15-18.

Bridport Ladies continued their recent good form with a convincing 74-35 win over Wellworthy in County League Division One.

Delphine Street, Laura Taylor, Pat Cornick and Margaret Clapp breezed home 28-9, while Pamela Daters, Barbara Iversen, Sheila Jones and Melody Watts were almost as impressive winning 27-10.

Frances Hewitt, Gill Hunt, Rosemary Brooks and Sue Hosking completed the whitewash with a 19-16 score.

The division two ladies were not so lucky as they were well beaten 42-72 by visiting Branksome.

Dinah Wilson and Thelma Pratt's rinks both suffered heavy losses, with Marion Carter's four going down narrowly 18-15.

BRIDPORT INDOOR BC

BRIDPORT Gundogs put up a good show away to the Moonfleet Smugglers in the national Famous Fives competition, but had to make do with two points thanks to Annie Legg's singles win over Mike Goddard, the former Dorset Champion writes Brian Baker.

Legg and Edna Cumberland lost the pairs however on the final end. Brian Baker, Sue and Brian Walsh went down by four in the Triples, with Cumberland, Baker and the Walsh's losing the rinks by six.

Highlight of last week's Evening League saw John Pestelle, Julie Bright and Edna Cumberland's Team A overcome a 4-14 deficit, with a 4,1,2,3,1 finish to win 15-14.

David Drake, Bernard Waterman and Barry Mapson's Team G scored a seven count on the first end on their way to an 18-8 win over Team H.

Viv and Roy Gill and Ann Harris's Team D head the table, beating Team L 19-13. Liz Walker, Robin Pither and Keith Hicks Team E finished 3,3 to beat Team K 19-7, while a two count on the final end saw Val Dodd, Ann Parkins and Margaret Pestelle's Team F defeat Team J 15-12.

Alan Barr, Robin Pither and Brian Toms Team G kept top spot in the Morning League, a 2,3 finish giving them a 14-7 win over Team J.

Keith Brown, Cumberland and Millie Meech's Team A are in second spot after a 19-6 win over Team H.

Sylvia Fletcher, Ruby and Bernard Winton's Team D and Peter Hawkett, Rose Everest and Wendy Syms won 11-9 and 9-7 over Team E and Team F respectively.

More success for Sophie

CHAMPION:
Sophie Keech

LOCAL golfer Sophie Keech continued her recent good run by adding the South West Girls Championship to her list of successes.

Keech, a member of Lyme Regis Golf Club was representing Parkstone in the competition played at Bath Golf Club in sizzling temperatures.

Her morning round matched the weather as she broke the course record with four birdies in a row to finished five under, and her one over par afternoon round saw her finish with a -4 total for the competition and a comfortable victory.

The weather was as intense as the the following day at Knowle Golf Club in Bristol for the SW Ladies Championships where Keech completed the morning round in par before shooting two under in the afternoon to win first place gross and the Katherine Cairns Bowl.

It also gave her top ranking for the match play event over the next two days in which she reached the final against Bethan Popal from Bristol. However, after a tense match in which both players played solid golf, Popal won through.

As a Faldo Series winner, Meech has received an invitation to a prestigious Pro-Am in Buckinghamshire to play with Holly Clyburn and Liz Young who play on the European circuit, who were once Faldo winners themselves and gave Meech a great deal of inspiration.

Oddfellows too strong for Quarterdeck

THE Oddfellows Arms were too strong for Quarterdeck Taverners and ran out easy winners of this year's Crosby Cup Plate Final played last week.

Batting first, Oddfellows amassed 173-7 in their 16 eight ball overs with Charlie Youngs and Adam Gay retiring on the maximum 30, as did club cricketer Ian Gay (25), with Brian Robinson (29) also giving great support.

John Saddington was the best Taverner bowler with 4-17.

In reply, none of the Quarterdeck batsmen were able to master the bowling, with Steve Grier (4-16) and Keith Readings (2-4) excelling, and they were finally all out for 71, losing by 102 runs.

The umpire was Steve Gale and the trophies presented by the Fred Bowditch, who along with Colin Crosby founded the competition in 1976.

Lyme Regis Golf news

Dynamite Denning delivers

THE weather was wonderful for Warren Madill's captain's day and there was some startling golf as well.

Division one winner, with the best score of the day - a superb 44 points (gross 68) was Chris Denning. Second, with 39 points, was Stuart Scott beating Mike Ebdon into 3rd on countback.

The winner of Division two was Roger Pincombe with 36 points, second was John Lawrence and third Stan White.

Special mention for John Gait who holed his second shot on the par 5 14th for an albatross and six points!

Last Saturday's Junior Stableford was won by Cameron Moss 43 points, 2nd Stuart Wight 39 points and 3rd Lewis Cottam with 38.

Meanwhile, two of Lyme Regis' promising juniors - George Seed and David Lyon - were part of the victorious Dorset Under 16s team that defeated Cornwall seven matches to five last Saturday (20th July) at St. Mellion.

George and David have also been picked to play in the next Dorset Under 16s fixture which is against Devon at Honiton GC scheduled for last Monday (July 29th).

IT had to happen at some stage! Dorset cricketers have been enjoying one of the most uninterrupted summers for many years until heavy rain intervened part way through Saturday's games causing all to be finally abandoned.

It was unfortunate for most of our local sides as they had possibilities of victory, with only Cattistock thankful for nature's intervention.

League leaders Cerne Valley were 121-2 after 27 overs when the game was abandoned.

To be fair to the hosts they had got rid of two of the danger men by then; Simon Green bowled by Bradley Damen for 27 and Neil Kellaway who passed 700 runs for the season before being bowled by Billy Walbridge for 43.

In the Premier League Weymouth were going along quite nicely at 99-2 with Ben Lawes on 35 not out after 21.5 overs.

At the Rec Dorchester were looking for help with Stalbridge going along well at 90-1; Pete Moxom (1-19) having had the only success to date having Stuart Sweatman (5) caught behind by Stuart Voss with the score on 36.

However, the introduction of Rob Waite (2-2 from three overs) suddenly gave them hope as he trapped Ed Clements (10) leg before wicket on 90 and then removed the dangerous Theo Granzvelles for 59, another catch for Voss, immediately before the players were driven off the field just before 3pm.

Although the result does not alter the positions, Dorchester drew a point closer to Weymouth having taken six points from their game.

Martinstown's Chris Read (4-37) made hay whilst the sun shone in their game against Blandford, who were 85-4 when the game was abandoned.

The opening bowler had B Robbins (0) caught behind off the last ball of his first over, and then repeated the dismissal on the other opener C Moxham (2).

Four balls later he bowled J Raynor (0) to leave the visitors 21-3.

When he caught and bowled his fourth victim A Lawrence (11) Blandford were rocking at 40-4, although A White (17 not out) and K Abbott (33 from 20 balls) had recovered the situation when the rain came.

Beaminster, having recovered from a tricky start at Bournemouth, looked to be heading for a reasonable total when play was abandoned as they looked to restart around 4pm, with Fred Everitt wondering what might have happened otherwise on 81 not out.

As often happens with century makers the previous week they fail the next, and that's what happened to Simon Jones.

They then lost Chris Lamb (10) and captain Will Everitt (20) batting aggressively before being caught off a full toss to leave them 42-3.

Young Max Barton joined Fred Everitt who was batting with real confidence, and they steadily built the recovery before Barton was out for an excellent 22 just as the rain sent the players in.

Weymouth 2nds (173-4) picked up 10 points at Parley 2nd's, while Portland RT would have had a difficult job at Stalbridge 2nds who had reached 235-7 before the rain.

The rain came early at Bridport, around 2.25pm with Kingston Lacey 18-2.

In Division Six, Beaminster 2nds Terry Field had just struck, taking a return catch off his own bowling to dismiss J Sullivan (16) when persistent rain saw their game against Stalbridge 3rds abandoned with the visitors 47-1.

New leaders Charlton Down might have been grateful for the rain with their game in the balance.

They were visiting previous leaders Chalke Valley in a top of the table clash and came away only a point worse off but still nine points ahead with five games to play, with the hosts 133-4 after 27 overs when rain stopped play.

The weather improved for Sunday's games which proved good news for our two local sides, with Symene earning only their second victory of the season, and Broadwindsor consolidating their position as leaders at the top of the Readers Mid-Wessex League.

Symene faced a nine-man Blandford Nomads, knowing that they had received a hiding from their visitors in the reverse fixture when the Nomads again were two short.

Then they relied on their big hitting top order, two of whom got centuries.

But this time although three of them reached the 40s, there was no repeat with Colin Willcox picking up 4-40 in his 12 overs.

With no one else getting off the mark, Symene were faced with a total of 162 for victory and they did it comfortably with seven wickets to spare.

Nick Skyrme (41) and Mark Smith put on 89 for the first wicket before a quick fire 20 from Colin Lloyd and an unbeaten 37 not out from Phil Hawkins saw them record just their second win of the season.

Broadwindsor were expecting a tough encounter at Ilchester who in beating Westlands recently had taken over the challenge for the championship.

But the West Dorset side won comfortably to open up a 40-point gap at the top.

Batting first on an artificial wicket that gave very little help to the bowlers, Chris Park led from the front with a superb 80 backed up by a half-century from Louis Kraukamp (51).

Solid knocks also from Steve Phillips (32) and Dean Hyatt (22) saw them amass 217-6 in their allotted overs.

While Ilchester's bowlers didn't fare well on the wicket, the same could not be said about Broadwindsor's.

Ross Baker ripped through the hosts taking 6-14 off eight overs, and with Indika weighing in with 3-2 from 4.1, they skittled the little pretenders for just 45 all out.

Gymnastics

Local gymnasts are south west champions

THREE novice acrobatic partnerships won gold medals at the recent regional championships

Three young partnerships from Honiton Gymnastics Club were named south west champions and one more took a bronze medal at last weekend's South West Novice Acrobatic Gymnastics Championships.

The results, which confirmed Honiton's junior gymnasts as among the best in the region, were a fitting end to the acrobatic gymnastics season, which began in February with a similar haul of medals.

Medal-winning performances came in a variety of disciplines. Erin Blackmore and Shelley Quick earned the highest scores of the whole competition to take the grade 1 girls' pair title - ahead of 20 other partnerships from around the south west - while other successes included: Thomas Merrick & Georgina Craig - Prep A mixed pair - gold.

Emma Saunders, Katie Studley & Chloe-Mae Outram - grade 1 girls' trio - gold.

Jade Zarczynski, Felicity Marx & Skye Symons - grade 1 girls' trio - bronze

Many other youngsters from the club also put in excellent performances, with 25 gymnasts taking part from the club.

Helen Reddy, head high performance coach at Honiton Gymnastics Club, said: "This is a great finish to the acrobatic gymnastics season for our youngsters and provides a great indication of how much potential we have within the club.

"Erin and Shelley just missed out on the medals early in the year, so it was great for them to up their performance and finish third.

"It was a superb performance by Emma, Katie, and Chloe-Mae too, while Thomas and Georgina did excellently in their first regional competition."

With the popularity of acrobatic gymnastics growing in Honiton, the club is running an increased number of sessions on Mondays, Wednesday, Friday and Saturdays, and welcomes girls and boys of any age to come along to sessions at Honiton Leisure Centre and try out this exciting sport.

To find out more call Helen Reddy on 07825 181693, email hnayler@hotmail.com, or ask at the leisure centre reception.

Football - pre-season friendlies

BY STUART BROOM

Encouraging signs for Bees and Terras

Bridport 1 Weymouth 2

BOTH managers would have taken some encouragement for the coming season following this entertaining pre-season friendly at St Mary's Field.

Both sides were missing players with Chris Luke, Ashley Staines, Darren Lock, Chris Senior and Shane Evans not available for Bridport, whilst the Terras were without Stuart Yetton, Kyle Critchell and Danny Clay.

There was drama in only the third minute when Bridport thought they were denied a blatant penalty when Ryan Dovell was hauled to the ground by 'keeper Jason Matthews.

The former Magpies stopper was shepherding a long pass for a goal kick when Dovell nicked the ball and started to run along the byeline towards goal only to be dragged to the ground by Matthews.

Weymouth claimed later that the ball was well over the byeline before hand, but referee Glen Barter in signalling play to continue clearly indicated he had seen no offence.

Terras skipper Scott Walker was finding some space down the left and combined well on several occasions with trialist Aiden Chainey who has just been released by Yeovil Town.

The former Truro City midfielder might have done better however with a 20th minute far post header that flew over the top.

Ben Joyce was another that stood out. The often unsung striker worked tirelessly and showed quick feet and was unlucky when his 27th minute shot was deflected for a corner.

Bridport had found it difficult to penetrate the Terras defence and were being forced into hurried passes with Weymouth quick to the tackle and close them down.

Long hopeful balls down the middle were easily dealt with by the visitors new central defence duo; the Walker brothers Michael and Nathan.

Weymouth took the lead on 32 minutes through a rather soft penalty when former Bee Jamie Symes went down in a melee; Scott Walker's well struck left footed shot giving Sean Lillington no chance despite guessing the right way.

However, Bridport started to get into the game and Chris Clarke had a great chance to equalise five minutes later but he miscued his free header from Dan Wise's free-kick.

Tom Richardson who had another impressive performance up front for Bridport brought the best out of Matthews soon after.

Nathan Walker thwarted Dovell as he ran on to a through ball with an excellent tackle, but the ball fell into the path of the following Richardson.

His well struck left foot shot looked a winner but Matthews was quick to dive down low to his left to palm it away to safety.

Bridport started much better in the second-half, and after good work by Dovell in the corner, Richardson's angled shot was deflected for a corner.

The game was much more even now, although Nathan Walker struck the top of the crossbar stretching for the ball from six yards and Sam Filkins, second-half sub for Lillington, had to stretch to take Chainey's looping header.

Senior changed the personnel and the shape at the start of the second-half with several substitutions, and a more attacking formation began to find a way through the Terras' defence, and it began to tell.

Matthews fumbled Dovell's angled shot from Richardson's pass, before the Bees deservedly equalised on 70 minutes.

Buckler goal

Weymouth failed to clear a throw-in down near the right hand corner and the ball found Max Buckler 10 yards out from the near post, who coolly brought the ball down before side footing it across and beyond Matthews high up his left.

However, Weymouth restored their lead within a minute when from the kick off the ball was played into the near post.

The ball somehow went through a melee of players and struck the base of the post before rebounding to the feet of sub, assistant manager Matt Groves, a yard out, who bundled it over the line.

Weymouth picked up their game again following this, and after Filkins had done well to hold Chainey's 20-yard shot he produced a magnificent save to prevent trialist Ben Wood adding a third.

The ex-Bideford midfielder's superb 25-yard curling right foot shot was heading for the top corner, but Filkins got across to tip the ball onto the angle of the goalframe and behind for a corner.

Senior was pleased with his charges performance saying: "I thought it was a good workout for both teams.

"Considering we were stepping up a level we did well, although in the first-half they closed us down quickly resulting in us rushing our passes and giving the ball away too easily.

"We never got down the wings or behind them enough and anything down the middle was gobbled up by the Walker brothers.

"We were denied a blatant penalty early on as well.

"However, we did much better in the second-half and deservedly equalised with a good goal from Max Buckler.

"But we then immediately gave them a silly goal, but considering Weymouth's status, I thought we acquitted ourselves pretty well."

Bees stung by rocking Robins

Bridport 2 Chard Town 3

BRIDPORT were brought down to earth following a good pre-season to date with a disappointing performance at St Mary's in the inaugural Bridport and Chard Chairman's Challenge Cup.

The Robins were much sharper in the first half and deservedly led 2-0 at the break. They added a third soon after the interval before the Bees broke the shackles midway through the second half with two quick goals, but they couldn't find an equaliser.

Bridport could not get to grips with ex-South Petherton striker Richard Hebditch who was outstanding down the Chard right side; repeatedly cutting the Bees defence open with electric speed and control especially in the first-half.

The game started in the dry but heavy rain which began five minutes in, introduced different conditions to anything either side had encountered so far in their pre-season games.

Chard controlled the game from the off, and on four minutes Sam Clark met a right wing cross at the near post but volleyed into the side netting, before George Chlopecki saw his shot from a corner blocked by the home defence.

In a rare foray into the Robins half, Russell Legg curled a 25-yard shot just wide of the far post, whilst at the other end Benjani fired into the side netting after a neat turn in the box.

Chard deservedly took the lead on 23 minutes although there was an element of luck about it, Hebditch's 25-yard shot close to the angle of the penalty taking a deflection off Chris Clarke's back as he slid in to try and block, and beating Sean Lillington just inside the near post.

A fit Sam Charles, still finding his form and strength after a long layoff, might have equalised five minutes later, but could only get his toe to a right wing cross and the ball flew high and wide.

Chris Luke then volleyed over after Robins' keeper Jason Hutchings had punched clear.

Jack Adams was also showing well down the Chard left wing, and when Shane Evans couldn't quite control his challenge, it needed a good save from Lillington to parry away his fierce angled shot.

Bridport were being forced back by Chard running power and following another great run by Hebditch, Benjani stretching to meet his cross put the ball over the top.

It looked like Legg might have equalised on 40 minutes with a 25-yard curling shot destined for the top right corner after neatly sidestepping a tackle, but Jason Hutchings got across well to push it away.

Adams gave Chard a two goal lead they deserved on the stroke of half-time when he beat Dan Wise before firing a low shot that took a slight deflection past Lillington.

Despite Bees manager Trevor Senior making four changes at the break, it didn't stop Chard increasing their lead four minutes in when captain Sam King was allowed a free header to score from a Hebditch corner.

Bridport slowly began to inch their way back into the game and finally pulled a goal back on 68 minutes when Tom Richardson, who once again worked hard up front despite a couple of petulant moments, headed home Max Buckler's free-kick after the striker had been brought down by Darren Hutchings.

Within a minute Ryan Dovell broke through on the left and calmly drew Jason Hutchings before driving his shot under and beyond him to bring the Bees within a goal of their opponents.

Despite their pressure in the final minutes, the Bees could not engineer an equaliser, and it was Chard who might and should have sealed the game with a chance nine minutes from time.

Matt Condliffe slipped on the now very greasy surface allowing Benjani a free run on goal, but as Sam Filkins raced out of his penalty area to close him down, he too slipped over.

There followed a number of miskicks on both sides before the danger was cleared.

◆ THIS trophy, to be contested annually, also saw the reserve teams vie for their own cup in a double header, and it was Chard that came out on top again winning 3-0 with first-half goals from ex-Combe St Nicholas duo James Boyland and Ben Haines.

Boyland completed a double with a second-half strike.
